CZECHS HELPING ITALIANS

BULLETIN

London, 3:28 P. M.—The Italians have gained a big victory at Nervesa on the western bank of the Piave and are fighting to complete their success. It was learned from authoritative sources this afternoon. (Nervesa is an important railway crossing and is the key stone connecting the river and the mountains). It was at this point that Duke Orlando said the enemy gained considerable from the Italians last week, the Austrians having crossed the Montegelle-Suseghana railway at several points. The Italians have hurled the Austrians back at this point reentering Nervesa. Hard fighting is under way at Nervesa. The Italians are striving desperately to consummate their success. On the lower Piave the Austrians have again been hurled back. The Italians have retaken more than one-half of the ground lost. The Austrian drive has so far been a complete failure but considerable troops are held in reserve but these are in the mountains.

The Italian official statement reported continuous fighting on the entire Piave river line from Montello to the Adriatic. Czech-Slav units with the Italians performed brilliantly, it was said.

The Allied and German official statements covering yesterday's fighting differed sharply. The latter made several claims which were widely at variance with the British, French and Italian official statements and the eye witness stories of United Press staff correspondents. A dispatch said a German attack on the Americans was stopped before it had fully begun. The German communiqué, however, declared that the Germans "penetrated deeply" into the American lines and inflicted heavy losses. The German also reported successful operations in Flanders while the British statement showed an enemy was defeated in the latter fighting.

Today the French reported an advance northwest of Chateau-Thierry. The French improved their positions at Hautevesnes. General Haig today reported success in local offensive operations in Picardy and the repulse of German raids in Flanders. Many losses were inflicted and prisoners taken in Avelow wood and near Belleau and on both banks of the Scarpe. "Several hostile attempts to recapture ground gained yesterday morning northwest of Merris (where the enemy claimed a success) were repulsed with loss to the enemy," the statement said.

FIRST HAND NEWS
FROM THE YANKS

By Frank J. Taylor

With The American Army In Lorraine, June 21.—There was unusually heavy artillery fighting north of Toul last night, the Germans throwing over 6,000 shells. Boche artillery was also busy in other Lorraine sectors, using large quantities of gas. The German official report last night of a successful attack at Seichprey is a lie. There was no raid. The only one the Hun even attempted died aborning.

PERSHING'S REPORT

Washington, June 21.—German patrols suffered considerable losses from American machine gun fire in the region of Chateau-Thierry and in the Woivre region, General Pershing's communiqué said today. "Patrol encounters have been especially active in the Chateau-Thierry and Woivre region and hostile patrols have suffered considerable losses in patrol encounters in this region and in Lorraine."

ARMY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 21.—Gen. Pershing reported 38 casualties divided as follows: killed in action, 6; died of wounds, 1; died of disease, 3; wounded severely, 27; wounded, 1.

YANK AVIATORS BLOW UP
BRIDGE ON PIAVE

Rome, June 21.—American aviators made their first flight on the Italian front yesterday, blowing up a bridge the Austrians had just thrown across the Piave, dispatches from Italian headquarters announced today.

MAHAFFEY MARINE WOUNDED

Washington, June 21.—The Marine casualty list announced today contained 127 names divided as follows: killed in action, 10; died of wounds, 19; severely wounded, 98. J. F. Wnuk, of Mahaffey, Pa., was among the wounded severely in action.

U. S. HOLDS 38 MILE FRONT

Washington, June 21.—American soldiers now hold 38 miles of trenches in France, members of the House Military Affairs committee learned of the War Department today. The committee also received encouraging figures on the production of machine guns, and small arms munition.

DOUGHBOYS PAY VISIT TO THE
SHRINE OF JOAN OF ARC

By Frank J. Taylor

(United Press Staff Correspondent) With The American Expeditionary Forces At The Front, May 28. (By Mail).—With characteristic French appreciation the Stars and Stripes have been placed in a position of honor in the church of the little village of Domremy, home of Joan of Arc.

Across from the iron-fenced yard with the tall evergreen trees and the tiny house once the home of Joan of Arc, is the old church in which Joan used to worship and give thanks for France's successes. In it are the flags of the principal allied nations.

But there is one place, different from the ordinary flag hangings on the columns of the old church. It is a sort of special altar in one corner facing to the memory of Joan of Arc. To the left is a small altar. To the right is a small altar. To the left is a small altar. To the right is a small altar.

CONGRESS WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT RUSSIA

By L. C. Martin

Washington, June 21.—Congress is about to demand a new statement of policy from the administration with regard to Russia, backed by a growing sentiment that a Siberian offensive would save Russia even against her will from German penetration. Members favoring American-Japanese co-operation in Siberia will introduce a Senate resolution attempting to force from the President some definite explanation of this government's stand. A careful canvass of both houses shows that if Congress acted right now on its own information and according to its own inclinations it would at once: Declare war on Turkey and Bulgaria; declare for giving Japan a free hand in Siberia for the purpose of an offensive against Germany; put all the Jugoslavs, Czech-Slovaks and Poles in this country in the friendly alien class to make them available as American soldiers and increase Austria's trouble.

BAND REHEARSAL TONIGHT

All band members are requested to be on hand at the Fireman's hall tonight for rehearsal and are urged to be on hand at the time appointed by Director Schaeffer. It is especially desired that the members attend rehearsals promptly as it is the purpose to have the band out July 4th if possible, and a few of the right kind of rehearsals will make that possible.

General rehearsal of all the members of the band will be held Monday evening.

Mrs. B. F. Chase, Jr., arrived home last evening from Philadelphia where she had accompanied her husband who is on his way to Paris Island, S. C. where he has received his call to the U. S. marine training station.

MURDER SUSPECT
AT PHILIPSBURG

A suspect in the Kellytown murder case was traced as war as Philipsburg yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Gorman and his deputies.

The man had been employed at Boardman but left there during Wednesday night. He came into Philipsburg Thursday morning dusty and travel stained and sporting a black eye.

He was seen by a resident of Boardman section who, while unaware of the murder of "Joek" McCull, the night before, took note of the suspicious actions of this man who endeavored to escape being seen.

When Sheriff Gorman arrived at Philipsburg he learned the suspect had purchased a ticket for Johnstown and departed on the 4 o'clock P. R. R. train.

The Johnstown police were notified to round the fellow up but have not been successful as yet.

Doughboys Pay Homage

Another bright American flag is in the beautiful church on the hillside back of sleepy Domremy in which Joan saw her visions. Domremy is on one of the main roads back of the American sector, and never a day passes without many doughboys and officers stopping to visit the home of Joan of Arc and the churches in which she was inspired.

The simple old French woman, a direct descendant of the family of Joan of Arc, whose husband is keeper of the place in times of peace, does her best to explain things to the Americans. She is sorry she cannot speak English, she tells you, but she is "too old to learn it now". So the doughboys listen with respect to her simple French, and never leave without giving the kind old woman a few coins and many a "merci beaucoup".

LOUIS ABRINO
FINALLY GETS
INTO THE ARMYCurwensville Tonsorial Artist
Has Put Up Hard Fight For Admission To The Ranks

WANTS TO SHAVE THE KAISER

One of the most patriotic young Americans we have met with or heard of since the world became engulfed in this terrible war left Clearfield yesterday for service in the airplane section at Vancouver Barracks, Washington. That man, too, was a young Italian-American at that. He was Louis Abrino, who conducted a barber shop at Curwensville for several years and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

When Uncle Sam went to war Louis was one of the first young men to volunteer. He tried the regular army but was turned down on account of his size. He then tackled the navy, was rejected again, but nothing daunted when he heard little fellows were just the timber for aviation he tackled that branch. He scaled around one hundred pounds and although he insisted he was able and willing to take his chances with the biggest "square head" in the Kaiser's ranks, the recruiting officers all turned him back while highly complimenting him on the patriotic spirit shown.

Unable to volunteer Louis impatiently awaited the calling of his number and was greatly disappointed when, despite his entreaties, the local board listed him for but limited service.

Every call for volunteers in that service put out by the local board since the classifications was answered by Louis in person. He was listed as a laborer or barber but on account of his slight physique was passed up for a more husky subject when laborers were selected from the list.

The other day Louis sold his barber shop and coming to Clearfield on Tuesday literally camped with Chief Clerk Bain at Exemption Board headquarters and begged for a chance to get in the service.

So important was his demand that the genial Chief Clerk decided to go the limit in getting Louis's patriotic longing assuaged. He got out his entire list of limited service calls and going over the list finally saw where cooks had been asked for some time since. He asked the young patriot whether he could cook and Louis assured him by the "heaven of the Prophets" that he could cook anything the government would supply.

A telegram explaining the circumstances was sent to the Adjutant General at Harrisburg Wednesday and Thursday morning word was received to induct a cook into service. When the recruit was informed that his strenuous efforts to get in the service were at last successful, he jumped two feet in the air and wanted to start right off the reel regardless of the fact that there was no train for several hours.

The papers were finally fixed up, Louis was armed with his order for service and a happier man never went to war in any clime. Louis confided to Clerk Bain on leaving that he was not going to stay at Vancouver long as after he got into the service he would manage somehow to get into the fighting "over there," and judging from his persistence thus far, Louis will make it.

When Louis advertised his barber shop for sale in The Progress he gave as the reason for wishing to dispose of a paying business, his desire to get over and give the Kaiser a close shave. He'll do it, too.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR SOLDIER

Mr. and Mrs. John Keller entertained at their home on Hillside last evening in honor of their son Harvey Keller, who will leave Sunday afternoon next for service in the aviation division at Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

Delicious refreshments were served and a general good time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leonardson entertained the employees of the A. W. Leonardson Co. at a party at Philipsburg last evening in Philipsburg's large hall where they attended the home front play there. The trip was a most profitable one and the play which was such a success was the "The Girl Who Came to Stay".

PENSION INCREASE

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the general pension act of May 11, 1912, is hereby amended by adding a new section, to read as follows:

Section 6 That from and after the passage of this Act the rate of pension for any person who served 90 days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the Civil War, now on the roll or hereafter to be placed on the pension roll and entitled to receive a less rate than hereinafter provided shall be $30 per month. In case such person has reached the age of 72 years and served six months, the rate shall be $32 per month; one year, $35 per month; one and a half years $38 per month; two years or over $40 per month: Provided, That this Act shall not be construed as to reduce any pension under any Act, public or private: Provided, further, That no pension attorney, claim agent, or other person, shall be entitled to receive any compensation for presenting any claim to the Bureau of Pensions under this Act, except in applications for original pension by persons who have not heretofore received a pension.

Amend the title so as to read: "An Act to amend an Act entitled 'An Act granting pensions to certain enlisted men, soldiers and officers who served in the Civil War and the War with Mexico,' approved May 11, 1912."

STOCKYARDS UNDER GOVERNMENT RULE

Washington, June 21.—President Wilson in a proclamation issued yesterday requires owners of stock yards to secure license before July 25. Secretary of Agriculture is thereby given virtual control of yards to the end of conserving the food supply and directing its distribution. Life stock commission men are also required to obtain licenses. The President issued his proclamation under the power granted him by act of Congress last year to control the distribution of food products in the interest of national security. The move is planned to create greater cooperation between live stock raisers, packers and the food administration.

CAN DIE HAPPY AFTER HE HEARS
GOOD OLD U. S. A. ENGINE TOOT

By Frank J. Taylor

(United Press Staff Correspondent) With The American Army At The Front, May 29. (By Mail).—One of the things that gets deeply into a doughboy's blood is the whistle of a good old American locomotive in France, and the clang of its bell.

When the first American locomotives arrived in France, the natives were astonished at the deep-toned bells and whistles. French locomotives have a "tooter" on them resembling an enlarged pea-nut-wagon whistle, say the doughboys, and there is no bell at all. The Americans contend that the whistle of French locomotives is a "tooter" and often, "tooter."

A truck load of doughboys was bounding over the road and a whistle from a railroad whistled in the vicinity of Verdun. Suddenly their ears were attracted by a whistle from the west. Followed by

"SPEEDY VICTORY"
IS NOT REALIZED

By Wm. Phillip Simms

With The British Army In The Field, June 21.—Today, three months from the beginning of Hindenburg's colossal offensive, his promise of a "speedy victory" is not achieved. The strength of his army must decrease if the Allies fight in the next three months as they did in the past and the end is in sight. This does not mean that peace will come then but the road to victory will be straight ahead. With the western front seething, rumbling and smoking like chains of volcanoes between eruptions, one thing is certain and that is, Germany is weaker morally and numerically than before the beginning of the offensive.

COMMISSIONED FIRST LIEUTENANT

W. F. Young, son of Mrs. Philip Young, of Locust street has been commissioned a First Lieutenant in the United States army. Lieutenant Young is in the aviation department and with the American contingents moved to the Italian front to take part in the battle against the Austrian invaders.

William Young is a graduate of Clearfield High school and enlisted in the Eighteenth regiment Pennsylvania National Guard just before the army went down into Mexico.

On the entrance of this country into the war he went into the service as a sergeant and was transferred to the aviation department. He went to France last summer and completed his training over there. He was then transferred to Italy and is now engaged with the Italian army.

He is in the bombing squadron and it is just possible that he participated in the successful bombing of the Austrian bridge over the Piave river noted in today's telegraphic news reported elsewhere in The Progress.

REFERRED TO THE CLEARFIELD
BAR

This is the question that has been causing Sergeant R. R. Mergenthal, of the local U. S. Marine Corps recruiting station, to spend sleepless nights lately.

George Hadley, of Kansas City, applied to Mergenthal for enlistment. When Hadley informed him that he was married and had two children, Mergenthal told him that he would draw $32.50 for a family allotment, namely $15 for his wife, $10 for his first child and $7.50 for his second child. But Hadley insisted on $35.

"How do you figure that?" queried Mergenthal.

"Well, my youngsters are twins, so how are you going to figure the first child? They both come under the $10 head," answered Hadley.

"I give up," declared Mergenthal, after puzzling over it for a few hours. The delicate question has been put up to the authorities at Washington.

Mrs. Kathryn and Julia Waterworth, Josephine Lytle, Kathryn Gaudin, Evelyn Dimeling, Elizabeth Dowler, Maxine and Virginia DeHass spent the day picnicking at Poplar cottage.

One Hundred Workers

25c PER HOUR AND BOARD

Emergency farm labor for the farmers of this vicinity was the subject under discussion at a meeting of men representing the business and industrial interests of the town held in the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

The meeting was well attended and plans made to enroll volunteer labor for the farmers and provide means for making same immediately available on demand.

Similar meetings have been held and organizations already formed in the DuBois and Curwensville sections of the county and a determined effort will be made under the direction of the Farm Labor bureau of the county to stimulate crop production by supplying the necessary emergency labor to harvest all crops.

The labor bureau is in charge of T. L. Wall and he will have this labor enrolled and card indexed as soon as possible and when his enrollment is made and cards issued the farmers' needs will be learned and the number of men required sent to the different farms requiring them on very short notice.

The transportation of this labor will be by volunteer automobiles and Hobart Callahan was made chairman of transportation and will be asked to solicit and list available machines.

A census of the farm labor in Clearfield was ordered taken and the following committee chairman named to solicit volunteer help:

Stores and business places—H. J. Legal, Roy Boyce.

Printing offices, barrooms, and pool rooms, M. H. McWhinney.

Industrial Plants, Alexander Paterson, S. T. McCure.

Barber shops, George Glover.

Banks and postoffices, H. B. Powell.

Business offices and trades, A. B. Reed, W. I. Betts.

Railroad employees, J. A. Breth.

Professional men, A. R. Chase.

It is estimated that the farmers of this vicinity will require the services of at least one hundred emergency workers from time to time. The rate of wages paid will be 25 cents per hour and board.

This is a patriotic service which all should participate in. Food will win the war. Help raise your share.

"DOUBLE CROSSING" OIL STOCK ADVERTISING

Every important newspaper in the United States, as well as publications in other lines, has received the first of a series of reports of the national vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World on oil stock promotions. The reports form the basis for a suggestion on the part of the committee that advertising mediums, as a means for protecting the public and saving the public's money for investment in Government securities and essential enterprises, decline to accept the advertisements of promotion oil companies.

The first of the series indicates in some detail what is to come in subsequent messages. The first report says many newspapers have been unconscious accessories in these promotion schemes. In some cases, publishers have knowingly accepted a part of the "oily money". In many other instances publishers have flatly declined to accept any advertising offering speculative oil stocks to the public.

This first report explains that the committee appreciates the importance of the oil industry, but shows that practically none of the companies using bombastic advertising has produced oil, and that those which have produced any have pumped extremely little. The report differentiates between the oil producing company and the concern which produces oil stocks.

The statement outlines some of the "tricks of the trade," and states that the future numbers of the series will go into more detail in this line. Names of companies and others will be used in illustrating methods, and the series is to be an expose of methods covering the entire field.

Attention in this report is called to the fact that while much is said in the advertisements and the literature of promoters about enormous profits earned in the oil business, the committee has not seen a solitary statement describing large profits that were made through investment in speculative enterprises in which flamboyant advertising was used.

One of the favorite "tricks of the trade" is to sell the individual investor "the actual ground," usually a "lot" some twenty by twenty feet. The report shows that the price of such land has often been as high as $5,000 an acre—and it is usually land in outlying territory and on which it will not be possible even to raise onions after the promoters are through and the "investor" balances his accounts.

Much of the advertising of the oil promoters, the report says, is of a character which ought, on its face, to serve as a red flag of warning, yet the public seems ever willing to "bite". For example, one of the companies said:

"Practically all the risk is eliminated, and it is now simply a question of producing and marketing the oil."

The committee suggests that "simply a question of producing and marketing" describes where the risk exists.

It has been announced that this and the subsequent reports will be sent to business men who write the committee (at Indianapolis), on their letterheads, asking to be placed on the list.

FRAUDULENT RED CROSS AGENT IS AT WORK HERE

It was reported in Curwensville yesterday that there is a man working in this vicinity gathering funds for the Red Cross. He is a fraud. He stated while in the vicinity of Grampian that he was sent out to collect funds by Superintendent John Blake of the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company. This was a lie of the first water, as Mr. Blake has never authorized any one to solicit money for the Red Cross or anything else using his name as a nucleus. It is also said that two Curwensville ladies met this fakir near Grampian Wednesday and believing the story he told gave him some money to be accredited to the purpose for which it was asked. If any citizen runs across this mucker, it is his duty to have him arrested at once, and should there be no officer in sight deputize himself as one for the occasion and hold him until a regular officer can be communicated with.

Declaration of war by the United States against Turkey may result in sending United States military forces to aid in the Mesopotamia campaign. This government has a division of troops organized in the Philippines which are available for such purpose. Philippine scouts to the number of 5,000 strong are also available for expeditionary purposes.

This is his second desertion. When word is received from his officers he will be sent back under charge of Billie McClure as the chief cannot leave at this time to take him.

At DuBois I was told to go to Clearfield, and having no more money walked over the mountain. When I reached there hungry and foot sore I was informed that the nearest place that I could enlist in that branch of the service was Johnstown. Becoming discouraged, I concluded to make my way back home and make a new start. I walked from the down river town to this place and someone told me to see you and that you would take care of me until morning. Here I am." The tale of his patriotism and hard luck touched the heart of the chief and his good wife, and they took him in, gave him a bed and good breakfast and started him on his way toward DuBois and his home.

CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHES

Careful Buying Pays in Business It Will Pay You

Business men! You know that there are as many profits in right buying as there ever were in clever selling. And that doesn't mean cheap buying either! Right buying is getting the best thing for the purpose, and paying only a fair price for it.

It's business you buy carefully. Can you say as much for your personal buying? Do you take pains to know, for instance, who makes the clothes you wear, just how well they are made, and what is a fair trading price for them?

The more care you take, the more likely you are to be a regular customer of the store. We make some pretty big claims for the values we give (due to our careful buying) but the best way for you to realize these values is to see them yourself. We'd like, for example, to show you our Clothcraft "5139" Special Blue Serge Suit at $22.50. It is undoubtedly cannot be equalled in town or elsewhere.

SALE Of Suits and Silk Dresses

Most Extraordinary Reductions for Friday, Saturday and Monday, June 21, 22 and 24

The season has been backward in Clearfield. The fact that the Liberty Loan went "Over the Top" unquestionably had much effect on purchasing and every spare dollar went for a bond.

But Summer is here and you must have a new suit or dress; so it is simply a matter of buying them during this sale at reductions from 10 per cent. to 50 per cent. less than you would expect. This sale will in fact demonstrate clearly our Wartime Policy and to adapt our business to the needs of our customers, even though we are compelled to shave profits down to the closest.

The June White Sale Will End Saturday When the Store Closes

It was not intended that this June Sale offering radically reduced prices in June, instead of July, should continue for an indefinite period. So then, the sale will positively close on Saturday next. If you want to share in the marked economies prevailing, immediate purchasing is necessary.

Below we list a few of the many special values that you should take advantage of before prices go back to regular.

This Is By Long Odds The Most Important Sale of Suits We Have Announced This Year

$18.50 A Collection of Smart New Spring Suits and Marked at the Very $18.50 Special Price of

It is rare indeed that a sale of suits so important as this one is announced at this time of the year and offered at such values as this. It is simply advancing the calendar thirty days and we are doing it by reducing the price of the suits to less than what they would be sold for a month hence. You can see from the descriptions the kind of garments involved in the selling. The materials are Gaberdine, serge, tricotine, mixtures in a large range of styles and colors. They formerly sold for $25.00 to $35.00. A very unusual bargain at $18.50. Don't miss this sale if you desire a new suit.

"DOUBLE CROSSING" OIL STOCK ADVERTISING

Every important newspaper in the United States, as well as publications in other lines, has received the first of a series of reports of the national vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World on oil stock promotions. The reports form the basis for a suggestion on the part of the committee that advertising mediums, as a means for protecting the public and saving the public's money for investment in Government securities and essential enterprises, decline to accept the advertisements of promotion oil companies.

The first of the series indicates in some detail what is to come in subsequent messages. The first report says many newspapers have been unconscious accessories in these promotion schemes. In some cases, publishers have knowingly accepted a part of the "oily money". In many other instances publishers have flatly declined to accept any advertising offering speculative oil stocks to the public.

This first report explains that the committee appreciates the importance of the oil industry, but shows that practically none of the companies using bombastic advertising has produced oil, and that those which have produced any have pumped extremely little. The report differentiates between the oil producing company and the concern which produces oil stocks.

The statement outlines some of the "tricks of the trade," and states that the future numbers of the series will go into more detail in this line. Names of companies and others will be used in illustrating methods, and the series is to be an expose of methods covering the entire field.

Attention in this report is called to the fact that while much is said in the advertisements and the literature of promoters about enormous profits earned in the oil business, the committee has not seen a solitary statement describing large profits that were made through investment in speculative enterprises in which flamboyant advertising was used.

One of the favorite "tricks of the trade" is to sell the individual investor "the actual ground," usually a "lot" some twenty by twenty feet. The report shows that the price of such land has often been as high as $5,000 an acre—and it is usually land in outlying territory and on which it will not be possible even to raise onions after the promoters are through and the "investor" balances his accounts.

Much of the advertising of the oil promoters, the report says, is of a character which ought, on its face, to serve as a red flag of warning, yet the public seems ever willing to "bite". For example, one of the companies said:

"Practically all the risk is eliminated, and it is now simply a question of producing and marketing the oil."

The committee suggests that "simply a question of producing and marketing" describes where the risk exists.

It has been announced that this and the subsequent reports will be sent to business men who write the committee (at Indianapolis), on their letterheads, asking to be placed on the list.

FRAUDULENT RED CROSS AGENT IS AT WORK HERE

It was reported in Curwensville yesterday that there is a man working in this vicinity gathering funds for the Red Cross. He is a fraud. He stated while in the vicinity of Grampian that he was sent out to collect funds by Superintendent John Blake of the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company. This was a lie of the first water, as Mr. Blake has never authorized any one to solicit money for the Red Cross or anything else using his name as a nucleus. It is also said that two Curwensville ladies met this fakir near Grampian Wednesday and believing the story he told gave him some money to be accredited to the purpose for which it was asked. If any citizen runs across this mucker, it is his duty to have him arrested at once, and should there be no officer in sight deputize himself as one for the occasion and hold him until a regular officer can be communicated with.

U. S. MAY OPEN AN ISSUE WITH TURKEY

By L. C. Martin, Washington, June 21.—Apparently preparing for a war declaration against Turkey the State Department yesterday formally inquired as to the reported Turkish transgression against the American consulate and hospital at Tabriz. The Spanish embassy was asked to investigate inasmuch as a Spanish representative at Tabriz cared for American interests there.

Declaration of war by the United States against Turkey may result in sending United States military forces to aid in the Mesopotamia campaign. This government has a division of troops organized in the Philippines which are available for such purpose. Philippine scouts to the number of 5,000 strong are also available for expeditionary purposes.

CHIEF CLARK NABS DESERTER

Chief of Police Clark picked up a deserter from Camp Lee last evening and will keep him locked up until arrangements can be made to send him back. His name is Joe Kulla. Last September he was in the call for duty but ran away. A few months afterwards he was located at a mining town called Gordon Heights, Centre county, arrested and taken to Camp Lee. This is his second desertion. When word is received from his officers he will be sent back under charge of Billie McClure as the chief cannot leave at this time to take him.

A young lad who claimed New York was his home routed Chief G. B. Clark from his sleep at an early hour yesterday morning. The tale he unfolded for the chief's sympathy's car was about as follows:

"I wanted to enlist in the navy and my parents would not give their consent, so I ran away. I tried in every town where there was a recruiting station, but was turned down every time. At DuBois I was told to go to Clearfield, and having no more money walked over the mountain. When I reached there hungry and foot sore I was informed that the nearest place that I could enlist in that branch of the service was Johnstown. Becoming discouraged, I concluded to make my way back home and make a new start. I walked from the down river town to this place and someone told me to see you and that you would take care of me until morning. Here I am." The tale of his patriotism and hard luck touched the heart of the chief and his good wife, and they took him in, gave him a bed and good breakfast and started him on his way toward DuBois and his home.

CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHES

Careful Buying Pays in Business It Will Pay You

Business men! You know that there are as many profits in right buying as there ever were in clever selling. And that doesn't mean cheap buying either! Right buying is getting the best thing for the purpose, and paying only a fair price for it.

It's business you buy carefully. Can you say as much for your personal buying? Do you take pains to know, for instance, who makes the clothes you wear, just how well they are made, and what is a fair trading price for them?

The more care you take, the more likely you are to be a regular customer of the store. We make some pretty big claims for the values we give (due to our extra careful buying) but the best way for you to realize these values is to see them yourself. We'd like, for example, to show you our Clothcraft "5139" Special Blue Serge Suit at $22.50. It is undoubtedly cannot be equalled in town or elsewhere.

SALE Of Suits and Silk Dresses

Most Extraordinary Reductions for Friday, Saturday and Monday, June 21, 22 and 24

The season has been backward in Clearfield. The fact that the Liberty Loan went "Over the Top" unquestionably had much effect on purchasing and every spare dollar went for a bond.

But Summer is here and you must have a new suit or dress; so it is simply a matter of buying them during this sale at reductions from 10 per cent. to 50 per cent. less than you would expect. This sale will in fact demonstrate clearly our Wartime Policy and to adapt our business to the needs of our customers, even though we are compelled to shave profits down to the closest.

The June White Sale Will End Saturday When the Store Closes

It was not intended that this June Sale offering radically reduced prices in June, instead of July, should continue for an indefinite period. So then, the sale will positively close on Saturday next. If you want to share in the marked economies prevailing, immediate purchasing is necessary.

Below we list a few of the many special values that you should take advantage of before prices go back to regular.

This Is By Long Odds The Most Important Sale of Suits We Have Announced This Year

$18.50 A Collection of Smart New Spring Suits and Marked at the Very $18.50 Special Price of

It is rare indeed that a sale of suits so important as this one is announced at this time of the year and offered at such values as this. It is simply advancing the calendar thirty days and we are doing it by reducing the price of the suits to less than what they would be sold for a month hence. You can see from the descriptions the kind of garments involved in the selling. The materials are Gaberdine, serge, tricotine, mixtures in a large range of styles and colors. They formerly sold for $25.00 to $35.00. A very unusual bargain at $18.50. Don't miss this sale if you desire a new suit.

Every woman in Clearfield and within reaching distance of the store should attend.
